Nikita Charlton
Completed Foundation Studies in 2012
Student of Bachelor of Social Work

‘After seeing my mother and her best friend complete Foundation Studies and go on to achieve great things, I thought I could do that too. I left school after year eight and didn’t think that I had the knowledge or skills to be able to study at university level.

Foundation Studies has given me the confidence to realise that I can achieve. It has taught me to question things and to stand up for what I believe in. I have learnt to be critical and that it is ok to be critical. It also gave me an understanding of what study options were available so that I can pursue my passion. I have made lifelong friendships.

It wasn’t easy, but it was challenging in a good way. I had excellent support from the University to ensure my success. It has given me purpose and I feel inspired to go on with further study. I want to make a difference.’
We have always wanted to create a university where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students can be successful. That goal is written into the Act of Parliament which founded the University in 1991. You’ll see it symbolised by Reconciliation Stones and Acknowledgements of Country on each of our campuses, and by the flying of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander flags from our buildings.

Recently, we introduced our first Reconciliation Action Plan, or RAP. Our RAP aims to deepen respect and relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and other groups within the University, and to deliver better opportunities and outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander staff and students. We are already well on the way to completing many of the actions in our first RAP.

We also have publicly announced our ambition to be a university of choice for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in South Australia and beyond. This means that:

> We will create a complete and safe environment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students to grow and contribute to their communities and to Australian society more broadly.
> Through true partnerships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and organisations, we will develop the pipeline from high school through to postgraduate engagement, identifying and supporting the best and brightest young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.
We will support these leaders of tomorrow by creating an environment where they can learn, grow and define the future in a place that acknowledges, respects and learns from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander wisdom, and celebrates the pursuit of knowledge in all its guises.

As part of creating a safe environment, we’ve also signed up to the national ‘Racism: It Stops With Me’ campaign.

This brochure describes the pathways and services that will help you to be successful in your university studies, and join the many other outstanding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander graduates of the University of South Australia. I hope that you will join us.

Professor David G. Lloyd
Vice Chancellor and President
The time of your life
Your time as a student is a unique and exciting time. It is the time to...

Push boundaries
University is the time to challenge what you know, defying convention and the ordinary in pursuit of new ideas and advancements that will shape the future of your world. As Australia’s university of enterprise, we’re committed to pushing boundaries and affecting change. We provide an education that cultivates a spirit of creativity and enterprise and equips tomorrow’s leaders and innovators. People like you.

Make connections
You will make connections through industry networking and experiential learning opportunities and have access to career services and advice that will carry you into the future. Our strong industry links and hands-on teaching approach complement the theory you’ll learn and are a major reason why our graduates enjoy employment rates that are above the national average and the highest in South Australia.

Be inspired
Learn from and be inspired by future-focused teachers who are behind some of the latest developments set to change the world in which you live. Almost 70 per cent of our teaching staff hold doctorate qualifications, which ranks us 7th in Australia, and all are dedicated to your success as a student.

Take charge
Your future is in your hands and we’re committed to providing you with all of the information you need to be confident of your choice to study with us. Take charge of your future and discover a world of study possibilities at programs.unisa.edu.au

New Jeffrey Smart Building
Our new learning centre, launched in 2014, brings the absolute latest in university facilities. Here are the top five things to do in the new building:

- Borrow a book from the library and warm up your lunch at the same time
- Charge your laptop and phone in a locker while waiting for your coffee
- Book a study space for your group or find a space with a unique view of Adelaide
- Experience innovative technology in the Tech Zone
- Get your learning and study support, including career and language advice, ID card, library book and printing, all in the one building.

Go beyond the books

New adventures await

There is much more to life at UniSA than study, with a wide range of events and activities both on and off campus. You’ll create some lasting memories and have some fun, but many opportunities to also help develop your professional, networking, social and leadership skills – all boosting your employability. Some of our unique experiences include leadership programs, social events, and sporting clubs and competitions. You can also connect through the University of South Australia Students’ Association (USASA).

Career ready

As well as covering the most up-to-date theory, our programs offer experiences outside of the classroom to help you stand out in the job market. This includes work placement opportunities in many programs, with some beginning as early as first year. You could attend networking events, hear from leading guest speakers, showcase your work to industry and receive career mentoring. Plus, our dedicated career services team is available to help while you’re studying and after you graduate.

Research at City East

The Sansom Institute for Health Research at the City East campus brings together the University’s internationally recognised research strengths in molecular medicine, pharmaceutical science and the quality use of medicines and pharmacy practice.

Low cost health clinics

The campus is home to a number of health clinics providing exercise physiology, mammography, physiotherapy and podiatry services to the public. The mobile allied health clinic travels to schools, community and sporting events, aged care facilities and homeless shelters. These clinics give students vital practical experience under professional supervision, and the benefit of discounted health services to staff, students and the wider community.

Research at City West

The Ehrenberg-Bass Institute for Marketing Science is one of the world’s leading centres for research into marketing. Its cutting-edge research is embedded into the University’s marketing curriculum so students can learn from the same marketing scientists that advise senior marketing executives from all over the world.

The Institute for Choice provides unparalleled insight into human choice behaviour and how it affects the products we choose, the life we lead and the world we shape.

The Centre for Human Resource Management conducts research that improves organisational effectiveness through human resource management practices, creating positive human resource outcomes and enhancing organisational performance.

Free legal advice

The University’s Legal Advice Clinic provides confidential, free legal advice to members of the community. The Clinic is staffed by law students who offer legal advice to clients under the supervision of a managing solicitor.
Magill Campus

Nestled near the foothills in the leafy eastern suburbs, Magill campus has lush gardens and open spaces providing a relaxed and picturesque setting in which to learn and grow. Its study facilities are world-class, including full-size television and radio studios and a purpose-built social work studio designed for interactive learning.

Research at Mawson Lakes

The campus also houses many internationally and nationally recognised research institutes and centres. These include the Ian Wark Research Institute with its focus on nanotechnology, biotechnology, and particle and material interfaces, the Barbara Hardy Institute which researches sustainable systems and technologies, and the Institute for Telecommunications Research which focuses on space, satellites and telecommunications.

Planetarium

The Mawson Lakes campus is home to Adelaide’s only Planetarium, a room with a dome shaped ceiling on which the night sky is displayed through a star projector which can show the position of constellations, stars and planets. The projector displays the relative position and brightness of about 5,000 stars that are visible from the Southern Hemisphere.

Mount Gambier and Whyalla regional learning centres

The University’s Mount Gambier and Whyalla campuses are both located around 400 kilometres from Adelaide, with Whyalla to the north west and Mount Gambier to the south east.

A team of 60 dedicated academic and teaching staff provide specialised tuition, learning and scholarship opportunities to around 450 local and international students. We offer targeted undergraduate and postgraduate degree programs in disciplines such as nursing, teaching, social work, engineering, business and Foundation Studies, specifically designed to meet the needs of local rural and regional communities.

The University also conducts a range of significant research projects, working closely with business, industry and community partners to reflect rural and regional priorities and interests.

Indigenous Student Services (ISS)

If you are an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander student studying at UniSA, Indigenous Student Services (ISS) is here to provide assistance to you. ISS is a coherent unit within the Division of Education, Arts and Social Sciences and is housed within the David Unaipon College of Indigenous Education and Research.

ISS offers you a friendly, comfortable and supportive place to study. An Indigenous academic adviser is located in each unit for any help you need or questions you may have. Indigenous students are also there for support.

Indigenous students can access ISS no matter which campus they are studying from with ISS locations at City East, City West, Magill, Mawson Lakes and the regional learning centres in Whyalla and Mount Gambier.

Off-campus assistance

Port Augusta
The Port Augusta Study Centre is located on the second floor of D block in the Port Augusta TAFE SA campus, 9-39 Carlton Parade, Port Augusta.

The Study Centre provides the local community with access and support to university study and offers computer and internet facilities. The centre provides a friendly atmosphere where students are able to use coffee-making facilities and relax in comfortable surroundings. Nursing students are also connected to the study facilities at Pika Wiya Health Centre, 40-46 Dartmouth Street, Port Augusta.

Port Lincoln
The Port Lincoln Study Centre is located within TAFE SA at 2 London Street, Port Lincoln.

Ceduna
The Ceduna Study Centre is centrally located at the Ceduna campus of TAFE SA. The centre is open to students five days a week 9am-5pm.

Ceduna is a relatively small town of about 2,000 people, some 800 kilometres from Adelaide. A high proportion of the town’s population and district is Aboriginal with affiliations to the former Lutheran Missions at Kooniba and Yatala, as well as Oak Valley, Port Augusta, Coober Pedy and Western Australia.

As Ceduna is a focus for many Aboriginal organisations, there is a demand for programs in Aboriginal Administration at degree level.

Indigenous Tutorial Assistance Scheme

The Indigenous Tutorial Assistance Scheme (ITAS) connects UniSA’s Indigenous students with academic tutors for each of their courses. This service is free of cost.

The program offers students access to qualified tutors located in metropolitan and rural locations with skills and experience in a wide range of study areas. Tuition includes all areas of study such as program content, time management, academic writing skills, essay planning and referencing skills, which will equip students with the qualities and techniques to graduate. Tutors are available to help with study and workload demands and to provide support and encouragement to assist with succeeding at UniSA.

Increasingly third and fourth year students are playing a greater role in tutoring first year students.

University preparation for Indigenous students

University preparation sessions (for new Indigenous students) are held before the start of the academic year. The purpose is to provide a solid and comfortable foundation for commencing Indigenous students.

These sessions provide academic and study skills and opportunities to make new friends, develop support networks and understand academic procedures and resources.

AIME Mentoring

Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience (AIME) provides a dynamic educational program that gives Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander high school students the skills, opportunities, belief and confidence to finish school at the same rate as their peers.

AIME has proven to dramatically improve the chances of Indigenous kids finishing school. AIME also connects students with post Year 12 opportunities, including further education and employment.

We believe that Indigenous = Success and expect all kids in our program to succeed.

AIME provides mentoring and educational services for Indigenous high school students to see them get through at the same rate as every Australian child. In 2013, AIME engaged over 2,000 Indigenous high school students and 1,000 university students across Australia. AIME plans to reach 10,000 Indigenous students annually by 2018.

Amanda Radomi

Bachelor of Arts (Australian Society and Indigenous Cultures)

Amanda Radomi has big plans for her Australian Society and Indigenous Cultures degree, which is helping her take steps to reach her lifetime dream; to improve the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people in Australia. As a parent Amanda has balanced her study and she sees the importance in working hard to improve conditions in Indigenous communities. “This area of study is so important to me because statistics relating to the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people in Australia are appalling and this directly affects me and my family,” she says. “I want to make a positive contribution and with this program I know I can.”

“I am passionate about achieving justice for Aboriginal people in Australia and this degree takes me directly towards this goal. I was impressed with the University’s action plan targeting Indigenous retention rates for both staff and students, and I knew I would get the support I needed to make my dreams a reality.”

Campus life

Life on campus can be as busy or as relaxed as you want it to be with a wide range of events happening all year round. Catch some live music, browse markets, take part in UniSA Sport on campus or grab brekky before class. When it’s time for a break, there are places to unwind including cafes, outdoor dining areas and gyms.

Campus health and fitness

UniSA Sport will help you keep active between classes through a range of on-campus sports activities throughout the year including yoga, pilates, self-defence and more. It is the place to go to join one of a number of sports clubs including football, cricket, scuba, rock-climbing, sailing, judo and more. You can also access health and fitness centres at our City East, Magill and Mawson Lakes campuses.

Food and fun

On-campus music and events are a part of life at UniSA, commencing the year with the music festival Gear Up, featuring national and local bands and other festival attractions. Live entertainment runs throughout the year from DJs to live bands at West Bar, to art exhibitions at Samstag, movie nights, theatre, comedy and barbecues across campus.

Brekky Bar

Grab brekky at uni on the way to (or even after) your morning lecture with your friends. Brekky Bar is on all metro campuses throughout the year bringing toasty goodness to your morning.

Eat at our cafes

Our campus cafes offer places to chill out between classes. West Bar offers cheap drinks and snacks to help you study including coffee and toasties. Grab a drink, enjoy a band, or hang out in the garden with a DJ.

UniBazaar

UniBazaar is our unique fusion of speciality market stalls, food trucks and entertainment running throughout the year at different campuses. Stalls are FREE for students.

Indigenous Graduate Trainee Program

UniSA is committed to providing its students with opportunities to build on the graduate qualities and competencies acquired at university so they can gain a solid foundation for their career. As part of the University’s commitments to the Indigenous Employment Strategy and Yaiya Warpulai Tappa (Indigenous Work Path) two positions have been allocated to UniSA students of Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander descent.

Selected graduates will be offered fixed term contracts for two years which will see them rotate through a range of business areas to achieve a broad skill set and an understanding of the business aspect of the University. During their final six months in the program they are supported and encouraged to apply for longer term positions within UniSA.

Indigenous scholarships

There are a huge variety of scholarships available for Indigenous applicants at UniSA. All have differing opening dates and application processes.

Each year more than 2,500 UniSA students from all walks of life benefit from scholarships and grants worth millions of dollars, so chances are there’s one for you.

A scholarship might just provide the helping hand you need. Not only do scholarships provide financial assistance but they often include valuable work experience, mentoring opportunities and even overseas travel.

We have a range of categories including financial support for high achievers and students in need. Use our search tool to find the scholarships you might be eligible to apply for.

Accommodation, find your home

Adelaide has a variety of accommodation options to suit different requirements and budgets. You might like to live in a student housing facility or private rental.

Indigenous Youth Mobility Program

The Indigenous Youth Mobility Program (IYMP) supports young people who move away from home and is aimed at young Indigenous people from remote areas aged 16-24 years. There are two hostels in Adelaide, one for young women which is located at Torrens and accommodates 11 participants, and one for young men which is on Payneham Rd, Glynde and accommodates nine participants.

Dedicated student accommodation

Dedicated student housing offers well-equipped accommodation options as well as the benefit of living alongside fellow students and the University works closely with a number of providers. Options include hostels, apartments and residential colleges in both city and suburban locations.

Hostels
$130–$230 per week

Hostels are generally located in the suburbs and provide fully-furnished single, double and triple rooms with shared kitchen, bathroom and recreational facilities and are great places to meet people and build networks.

Apartments
$150–$390 per week

A variety of student apartment options are available in the city and near suburban campuses. These include furnished one to six bedroom apartments, spaces with shared kitchen, living and bathroom facilities. Chores and household expenses are usually negotiated with fellow tenants.

Residential colleges
$300–$440 per week

Located in North Adelaide, a 10 minute walk from the city, are a number of residential colleges which offer fully-furnished single rooms with a bed, desk, chair, telephone and wardrobe. Most include meals and provide access to computers, the internet, a library, music rooms, sporting and laundry facilities.

Non-profit housing

Several not-for-profit and subsidised housing options are open to students. Eligibility criteria and waiting lists may apply.

Note all costs are per person in Australian dollars and are only approximate.

Student accommodation providers

A number of dedicated student accommodation providers offer a variety of accommodation options conveniently located at sites around the city and nearby to our campuses.

Unilodge

Offers an extensive range of city centre accommodation styles to meet all budgets. All sites are located within walking distance of the University’s city campuses, shopping precincts including the Adelaide Central Market and cosmopolitan East End, and public transport links. Choose from affordable share options and single rooms through to deluxe apartments.

Urbanest

Located in the heart of Adelaide city, urbanest North Terrace is directly across the road from the central railway and tram stations, along with bus links to a number of suburbs. It is a five-minute walk to Rundle Mall – Adelaide’s premier shopping precinct – and in between our City East and City West campuses. Whether you want to live in a shared apartment or your own studio room, urbanest North Terrace offers a variety of rooms to suit a range of budgets.

Accommodation

unisa.edu.au/accommodation
Private rental accommodation

You may prefer to organise your own private housing and the University has made searching easier through our brand new private rental accommodation database.

New student rental database

Many properties listed on the University’s new user-friendly database are targeted towards students seeking accommodation just like you, so the site offers a great way to find the ideal place to stay. Log in using your university email address for exclusive search access, or use the site app from your mobile device.

Other places to look for vacancies are real estate agencies and newspaper classifieds.

unisa.edu.au/accommodation/rental

Note: the University does not inspect private rental properties (including those on the rental database). It is very important that you inspect the accommodation carefully, satisfy yourself of its suitability and meet future housemates before paying money or agreeing to a lease.

Note all costs are in Australian dollars and are only approximate.

Lincoln College

Superbly located in historic North Adelaide, Lincoln College provides welcoming, friendly and safe accommodation for male and female students attending university in Adelaide. The majority of its students are studying at the University of Adelaide, University of South Australia, and Flinders University. The College also welcome students from TAFE SA, Regency College, Bradford College, SAI BT, Endeavour College, Carnegie Mellon and other certified tertiary courses in South Australia.

Lincoln is a multi-faith, multicultural community that since 1952 has been providing a caring and supportive environment for students who live away from their homes during their tertiary studies. The College foster independence, inclusion and diversity.

Private rental

$100—$250 per week

Renting privately can be a very affordable housing option if you are prepared to shop around and share with others. You can rent an entire property, share with other students or live in a home with a family, couple or single person.

Homestay/private board

$250—$300 per week

Students can live in a home with a family, couple or single person. Costs include your own furnished rooms, meals and utilities. Stays can be as short as four to six weeks.
UniSA College

UniSA College offers a range of diplomas and a Foundation Studies program which can provide a pathway to the university degree of your choice. UniSA College programs build your academic skills and pre-requisite knowledge, preparing you for degree-level study.

Diplomas
Diplomas offered through the UniSA College are two-year programs designed to provide a pathway into a university degree for those who may not meet the requirements for direct entry. You will learn the skills required for successful tertiary-level study as well as gain discipline-specific skills and knowledge with support from UniSA College staff. Studying a diploma allows you to build networks as you study alongside other undergraduate students in your chosen field.

Upon successful completion, you will graduate with a university diploma qualification. You will then continue seamlessly into the second year of your undergraduate degree at UniSA.

Diploma programs:
- Diploma in Allied Health
- Diploma in Arts
- Diploma in Business
- Diploma in Science and Technology

Packaged programs:
- Diploma in Arts/Bachelor of Arts
- Diploma in Business/Bachelor of Business
- Diploma in Science and Technology/Bachelor of Information Technology
- Diploma in Science and Technology/Bachelor of Health Science

Foundation Studies
UniSA Foundation Studies is a free*, one-year program with no entry qualifications required.

Students learn the skills required for successful university-level study. On completion of the Foundation Studies program, you can use your grade point average (GPA) to apply for entry into a university degree. This process is competitive. Foundation Studies students are taught on campus by UniSA staff, and have access to our full range of support services, leading to a smoother transition into a UniSA degree.

* Foundation Studies students are not charged course fees but may be required to pay student amenities fees as determined by the Australian Government.

How to apply
Applications for the diploma programs and Foundation Studies are made through SATAC as one of your six preferences:

Your pathway into UniSA
Using your ATAR is only one of many ways to gain entry into your chosen degree.

Walha Udi Marvyn McKenzie
Bachelor of Visual Arts

‘I fell into creating art late in life as a means to explore, reaffirm and reclaim my diverse Adnyamathanha, Ngarrindjeri and Luritja Indigenous Cultural identity, language and heritage.

‘For 10 years I had just learned and created art alone, at my own little kitchen table until I decided to apply for special entry as a mature-age student into the University of South Australia’s Bachelor of Visual Arts, via the David Unaipon College of Indigenous Education and Research.

‘As a mature-age student I would like to encourage Indigenous Peoples, of all ages, to consider furthering their education at the university level, for such educational attainment may not only benefit the individual but all our Indigenous People as a whole.

Education changes lives and is the greatest single weapon to overcome Indigenous disadvantage.'
UniSA Bonus Points

For students commencing university study in 2015

UniSA Advantage is a bonus points scheme that encourages participation in education as well as rewards achievement in selected Year 12 subjects that better prepare students for university study. The scheme includes two strands – Achievement and Aspire.

unisa.edu.au/bonuspoints

For students commencing university study in 2016 and onwards

The three South Australian universities are replacing all existing equity and subject bonus schemes with two new bonus schemes. The two new schemes are the SA Universities Equity Scheme and the SA Language, Literacy and Mathematics Bonus Point Scheme.

The SA Universities Equity Scheme will provide bonuses in two ways: bonuses for all students in specified schools and bonuses for individuals experiencing disadvantage.

The SA Language, Literacy and Mathematics Bonus Point Scheme encourages students to strengthen their preparation for university studies by undertaking a language other than English, or specified English and Mathematics subjects.

For more information contact Future Student Enquiries by phone (08) 8302 2376, email study@unisa.edu.au or visit unisa.edu.au/bonuspoints

Guaranteed Entry

Many programs offer guaranteed entry with a certain Year 12 score through UniSA Preferred. If your ATAR meets the UniSA Preferred qualification for that program, you have met any prerequisites, and you have listed the program as your first preference then you’re in. It’s guaranteed. UniSA Preferred also applies to TAFE/RTO diplomas or higher qualifications.

Use your ATAR (Year 12)

High School

Complete Year 12 and apply using your ATAR.

Or take a UniSA pathway

UniSA College

Complete a two-year diploma, then enter the second year of a linked UniSA degree.

UniSA Associate Degree

Complete a two-year program in engineering (via ATN Test), or built environments, then enter the second year of the related degree.

Or take an alternative pathway

TAFE/RTO

Apply using a certificate IV, diploma or advanced diploma from TAFE or another RTO. You may also receive credit for your study.

South Australian Institute of Business and Technology (SAIBT) Diploma

Complete a diploma through SAIBT. Then enter the second year of a related degree. A minimum grade point average (GPA) is required.

Special Tertiary Admissions Test (STAT)

If you are over 18 and haven’t completed more than 2 years of full-time tertiary study in the last 2 years, you can sit the STAT for entry into UniSA programs.

Higher Education Study

Complete four courses at an appropriate level through Open Universities Australia (OUA), then apply to UniSA based on your GPA.

Individual circumstances may differ and some conditions may apply. Please contact our Future Student Enquiries team to discuss your pathway. unisa.edu.au/pathways
Your next steps
Your journey to university.

Step 1
Choose

Use the information in this guide and online to select your preferences. Check prerequisites, assumed knowledge and additional entry requirements. Explore bonus points and guaranteed entry.

Visit:
- SATAC Guide
- Undergraduate program tables on pages 22-24 of this guide
- programs.unisa.edu.au
- satac.edu.au

Step 2
Apply

View our step-by-step instructional video on our website and apply for entry through SATAC.

Visit:
- unisa.edu.au/apply
- satac.edu.au

Tip: Place your preferences in order of your passions and not in order of ATAR as you will only get a single offer for the highest preference you are eligible for.

Step 3
Check

Check your results and confirm your final UniSA ATAR including bonus points. Find out if you are eligible for guaranteed entry into your preferred program.

Visit:
- unisa.edu.au/bonuspoints
- unisa.edu.au/preferred

Tip: Our phones will be open from 8.30am–6.30pm on the day results are released. Call 08 8302 2376 to find out your UniSA ATAR.

Costs
The costs of university will be different for everyone. Check out our fees and finances (right) for more detail.

There are a range of scholarships available to help with costs, see page 14.

Visit our website for more details.
- unisa.edu.au/fees

Paying for your studies
Your place as a domestic student at the University of South Australia is Commonwealth-supported. This means that you are charged for a portion of the cost of your studies, and the Australian Government contributes to part of the cost. If eligible, you can defer your contribution through HECS-HELP and repay it later through the taxation system. Your contribution will depend on what you study. See table for a breakdown of student contribution amounts for 2014, as per Australian Government guidelines.
Step 4  Respond

Offers will be issued in each month from September onwards, with the major rounds in January and February. Ensure you respond to your offer. You can choose to accept your offer and still be considered for your higher preference if you didn’t get the offer you were hoping for.

Visit: satac.edu.au

Tip: Didn’t get any offers? Call Future Student Enquiries to explore your options on 08 8302 2376.

Step 5  Prepare

Your university adventure begins at O-Week late February. In the meantime, after you accept your offer, you can get started on the UniSA Network and begin using your email. Plan your timetable, check dates and prepare for lectures to begin early March.

Visit: unisa.edu.au/newstudents

Notes

Note 1: Entry to this one year Honours program requires completion of a bachelor degree.

Note 2: Applicants with a completed qualification higher than a Certificate IV will not be eligible.

Note 3: Can be completed in three years if studied in three trimesters per year.

Note 4: Enrolled nurse Certificate IV or Diploma in Nursing - both with current practising certificate.

Note 5: Certificate IV when accompanied by a current Enrolled Nurse Practising Certificate.

Note 6: SACE Stage 2 Physics and Mathematical Studies for the majors and minors in Biology or Chemistry. SACE Stage 2 Mathematical Studies for the majors and minors in Mathematics.

Note 7: One or more SACE Stage 2 Science subjects chosen from Chemistry, Physics, Biology and Geology AND one SACE Stage 2 Mathematics subject chosen from Mathematical Methods, Mathematical Studies or Specialist Mathematics.

Note 8: Whyalla based students will participate in video conference classes with Gawler Lakes personnel.

Note 9: Applicants with a completed qualification at Certificate IV level or higher will not be considered for admission.

Note 10: Applicants who have previously studied at higher education level or completed a TAFE/VET award at Certificate IV or higher will not be considered for admission to this program.

Note 11: SACE Stage 1 Mathematics and one science course.

Note 12: Whilst this program is based from the metropolitan campus specified, courses are available at Whyalla campus through blended mode.

Note 13: Whilst this program is based from the metropolitan campus specified, courses are available at Mount Gambier campus through blended mode and online delivery.
