Now you've completed some research, it's time to start planning your career goals and how you can achieve them.

What are my career goals?

Most people have never asked themselves the simple question: "If I could be anything, what would I be?" Now is a good time to state your career goals. In the space below, write down your dream job that reflects the ideal way you would make a living. Remember to be realistic.

My dream career / job / position:

What education do I need to do my ideal job?

Take a look at your career goals and determine what level of education, skills and training you will need. It's important to keep these four points in mind:

- 1. What type of degree or qualification will I need? (i.e. diploma, certificate, bachelor's degree, master's, PhD).
- 2. What skills will I need to learn? (i.e. language, organisational, sales, technical, artistic, communication).
- 3. What hands-on training will I require? (i.e. computer, medical, legal, trades).
- 4. What people and resources can help me to achieve my career goals? (i.e. work experience, volunteering, teachers, career advisers, counsellors, student organisations, universities, TAFE, trade schools, internet, parents, relatives, mentors.)

Education, skills and training I need:
